Complete Market Reports Corrected Each Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce and Vegetables.

Portland, Aug. 2.—Front street produce merchants think the new method of fruit inspection on the part of the state board of horticulture will help their business, as it will discourage the practice of farmers selling pest-afflicted fruit direct to dealers up town.

Oregon potatoes have been coming freely to the retail dealers of this city, though very few reach Front street, as were around yesterday offering to grocers at a low rate, while the business of commission merchants and wholesale dealers dropped to nothing. The shipping season will begin in about ten days, when the potatoes will have sufficiently matured to enable them to be kept for some time.

Some new crop wheat is being bought at quoted prices, but the season for heavy deals has not yet arrived. Mills will be the first buyers, as they have to stock up for the grinding season. The crop of 1904 has entirely disappeared.

Sugar went up 10 cents per 100 pounds all around yesterday afternoon. This was a surprise to wholesale dealers, who have been keeping stocks down in view of a further decline. The advance is in sympathy with the 10 cents advance in New York Monday.
